

JDIC Open Source Project ("Project")
Joint Copyright Assignment

In order to clarify the intellectual property rights granted by you for contributions of software or documentation to the Project, Sun Microsystems, Inc. ("Sun") needs to have a Joint Copyright Assignment ("Assignment") on file signed by You, indicating Your agreement to the terms below. This Assignment does not change Your right to use Your own Contribution (as defined below) for any other purpose.

Please supply the contact information requested and read this document carefully before signing. Please fax a copy of this Assignment back to Sun as described at the bottom of this page. Retain the original Assignment for Your records.

1. You own, and have sufficient rights to contribute, all past, present and future source code and related material which You deliver to the Project ("Contribution"), and which have been accepted by Sun.
2. You hereby assign to Sun joint ownership in all worldwide common law and statutory rights associated with the copyrights, copyright application, copyright registration and moral rights in Your Contribution to the extent allowable under applicable local laws and copyright conventions. You agree that this assignment may be submitted by Sun to register a copyright in the Contribution. Except for the rights granted herein, You retain all right, title and interest in and to Your Contributions and may use the Contribution for Your own purposes. This Assignment supersedes and replaces all prior copyright assignments made by You to Sun for this Project. Neither party has any duty whatsoever to render an accounting to the other party for any use of the Contribution.
3. You represent that You are legally entitled to grant the above assignment. If Your employer (s) have rights to intellectual property that You create, You represent that You have received permission to make the Contribution on behalf of that employer, or that Your employer has waived such rights for Your Contributions.
